On 23rd February 2019 Saturday, the students of Department of Biotechnology, ARKA JAIN University visited the M'am Organic Farm situated in Dalma. The students and faculty members were enthrilled and had an adventurous trip. They visited organic farm guided by owner Mr. Santosh Sharma. He is the founder of DTB World School, M'ma Milk and currently working on Project "Khushi". He shared environmentally safe techniques of farming crops, vegetables and extracting cow's milk using imported machines without destroying the useful bacteria which otherwise be done by pasteurizing the milk. He lays emphasis on integrated farming. His vision is to develop the tribal area of Dalma and to promote tourism in this area of Jharkhand. He encouraged and motivated the students for the entrepreneurship programs. The students understood the importance of using eco-friendly techniques of farming which is sustainable.
